Congratulations. You have passed the NAPLEX.

As you know, the NAPLEX is one of the two examinations required for licensure as a pharmacist in California; the California Practice Standards and Jurisprudence Examination for Pharmacists (CPJE) is the other examination. CPJE score are sent in a separate letter from the Board.

After you have passed both the NAPLEX and CPJE and received score reports from the Board advising you that you have passed the exam, the Board will notify you of any remaining information it needs from you before you can be licensed. Requirements for licensure as a pharmacist are listed on the Board's Web site.

Congratulations!
